The Story of the Amulet E. Nesbit

The Story of the Amulet, a novel for children, written in 1906 by E. Nesbit, is the final part of a trilogy of novels that also includes Five Children and It (1902) and The Phoenix and the Carpet (1904). In it the children re-encounter the Psammead—the "it" in Five Children and It. As it no longer grants wishes to the children, however, its capacity is mainly advisory in relation to the children's other discovery, the Amulet. The children have half, and need to find the other half to obtain their heart's desire. The search takes them through time and other lands.
